This is the ultimatum arrived at by the Commissioners this morning, at a special themselves in making his reception a sucsession of the board. The meeting was call- cess. The Postal Card Controversy.

Postmaster General Bissell, after a thorough examination of the postal cards now being offered by Mr. Woolworth, the contractor, has decided to permit him to continue under his contract so long as the paper furnished is up to the contract standard. Mr. Woolworth now has an order for 4,000,000 cards, which, when filled, will be shipped to Washington. Regular daily orders will be sent to Mr. Woolworth beginning January 1.

SENDING PRESENTS.

WANTED (Miscellaneous)... WINTER RESORTS

The Rush is Already On and the Post Office Busy.

-Letters for Santa Claus-Foreign Mail First.

The mail tells of the approach of Santa Claus. The pressure of Yuletide correspondence is beginning to be felt, and the postal people are girding their loins for the rush. They will lend a hand to help Washingtonians give the patron saint of winter his annual embrace, and will exert and parcel flood are being rapidly perfected. Substitute carriers are held in readi ness to execute the orders of their chiefs piness and love.

Sending Presents. are thinking of the friends in far-off lands There was a disposition on the part of the Commissioners to be lenient in some cases, but the attorney quickly knocked all such thoughts to smithereens. He said plainly when asked for his opinion, that he did not believe the Commissioners had any choice in the matter. The law on the subject was plain. He cited the seventeenth section of the new liquor law, which reads:

"Sec. 17. That all applicants who have had a license during the preceding year shall apply for a renewal of such license on or before November 1 of each license vear, and shall be permitted to continue business until license shall be granted or refused by the excise board; but in all cases of refusal to grant license such proportion of the license fee as may have become due shall be deducted and retained from the sum deposited therefor as the time from the first day of November to the date of such refusal bears to the entire license year, and no other person shall be permitted to conduct said business until a license is issued therefor."

Excise Board Rules.

Then, again, he pointed out that the excise board at its first meeting had made certain rules and regulations, the thirteenth section of which covered the case in question completely. At the suggestion of

When an application for license for a person who was licensed for the preceding year has been rejected by the exclese board the assessor of the District shall immediately transmit to the major of police the following notice, to be served upon the applicant in person or to be left at his place of business:

Mr. —: You are hereby notified that your application for a liquor license at No. ——street, in the city (or county) of Washington, District of Columbia, was on the — day of ——, 189-, rejected by the excise board. The amount to which you are entitled by law can be had upon demand.

You are further notified that the above rejection terminated all rights you may have had to continue in said business at the said place from and after forty-eight hours after midnight of the day of serving this notice, and that the police have been directed to see that the same is closed.

A copy of this notice, with the return of the officer making the service, showing when, where and upon whom the same was served, shall be filed with the application.

The Decision Discussed.

Young America.

A few of the usual Santa Claus letters have been received from Young America.

They are addressed to Santa Claus, Kris Kringle, &c., and are variously signed Jimmy and Johnny. These letters are held because of insufficient address. One young Washingtonian prays Santa to fetch him a gun, a sword and a belt, saying that he wants "ter lick the stuffin' out'n Billie-what lives on the next square." Sister Sue is on hand with her request for a doll, alleging that her mamma is too poor to buy her the desired toy and that she places her trust in the bounty of Santa. Little Willie comes up smilling and says "plese unkel Santa plese tu sen me a perlice wissel and klub fer I want tu run in some of the othur fellers."

Lighter This Year.

Because of the recent money stringency the post office officials think that the Christmas mail of this year will be considerably lighter than that of last year.

They also base this prediction on interview.

They also base this prediction on interviews which they have had with merchants, who say that although the holiday trade is brisk it is below the standard for a corretion praying for a withholding of the notices to close, and directed the license clerk to proceed and send out the notices.

The action of the Commissioners soon reached the ears of the liquor attorneys and formed food for discussion during the day.

Mr. Charles Hood, the representative of the Heurich Brewing Co., said it was an unjust order, as it carried with its enforcement the closing of a number of reputable places that did not have a scratch against them.

Mr. Frank Madigan, who regresents the Washington Brewing Co., said the opinion of the attorney and the decision of the Commissioners was no news to him. He had expected such action all along. He would say, however, that it was a most unjust decision of factories and the decision of the commissioners was a most unjust decision. The officials are ready to grapple with the
